VIC Enquiry
Name: McMahon, Adrian
Organisation: Nil

Question: My suggestion is for the name of the new electoral division in Victoria. I think it must be named after a woman, as the current list of divisions is predominantly men. That inequality goes against Australian values.

I also think if possible it should be named after an Indigenous woman, such as Margaret Tucker (aboriginalvictoria.vic.gov.au/margaret-tucker-mbec) or Eleanor Harding (aboriginalvictoria.vic.gov.au/eleanor-harding). These amazing women are worth recognising.

I am not sure if you try to pair the individual to a location they are connected with. If so, and a location is decided first, it would be worth consulting with Aboriginal Victoria or a similar organisation to find an appropriate female for that region.
