OBJECTION TO REMOVAL OF NORTG SYDNEY ELECTORATE.

I fully object to the redistribution of boundaries in the lower North Shore, including the removal of North Sydney as an electorate.

The political views, and lifestyle of Warringah, Bennelong and Bradfield do not align with those within the lower north shore.

I live in Chatswood west and am a member of Bradfield (just), which I already feel does not represent me or my community well. I would like to be within North Sydney which I feel represents our lifestyles better.

The move of the other half of Chatswood west to Bennelong I also object to. There is a big disconnect between the people of Ryde and the people in Chatswood west and Lane Cove who will all desire different things for their community. Same with North Sydney.

Lastly, Bradfield will become too large, it is already too large and represents a range of people and has been able to hold a strong dominance by people in the northern north shore who have different values for those in the south.

I propose North Sydney is kept and expanded to include all of Willoughby Council, and perhaps Lane Cove too.
